52) Explain the rules for debits and credits. Use the accounting equation as a basis for your explanation and indicate the specific rules for debits and credits as they apply to the various accounts. Your answer should include the rules for all types of accounts affecting owner's equity.

Answer:

Debits are on the left-hand side and credits are on the right-hand side. Depending upon which side of the equation you are on, debits will either increase or decrease an accounting equation item. Owner's equity has four specific accounts that have an effect on the owner's investment in the firm. Revenues and capital (investments by the owner) increase with credits while expenses and withdrawals increase with debits.

19) Describe the posting process and how it relates to the accounting process. Give an example in your discussion.

Answer: The posting process involves transferring the amounts recorded for each transaction in the journal to the individual accounts in the ledger. The posting process updates the accounts for the business events that have taken place. For example, assume the following transaction was recorded in the journal:

Supplies 200

Cash 200

The posting process would involve entering a $200 debit into the supplies account and a $200 credit into the cash account. This would increase the supplies account and decrease the cash account by $200.

- 51) Janet Smythe started her personal coaching business, Smythe Personal Coaching, on November 1, 2014. Janet records purchasing supplies as assets and cash received from clients on deposit as unearned revenue. The following transactions occurred during the first month of operations:
- Nov. 1 Janet Smythe invested $25,000 personal cash in the business by depositing that amount in the bank account titled Smythe Personal Coaching. The business gave capital to Smythe.
- Nov. 1 Paid the November rent on the office space, $1,500.
- Nov. 3 Purchased a computer and printer for use in the business; she used her personal credit card in the amount of $1,800. The computer has an expected life of three years with no salvage value.
- Nov. 5 Purchased office supplies in the amount of $75 on an account she set up with the store, Ace Office Depot.
- Nov. 10 Received $500 from her first client, Robert Jones, as payment in advance for coaching fees. (Record this amount in the account Unearned Coaching Revenue.)
- Nov. 17 Travelled to Montreal to attend a personal coaches conference. The conference lasted one week and costs were: travel $1,500; conference registration fee, $750. Used cash from the business to pay for the expenses.
- Nov. 25 Paid Ace Office Depot the amount owing from November 5.
- Nov. 30 Counted the office supplies and estimated that there was $25 of supplies remaining. Robert Jones had received $100 of coaching during the month.

Required:

Prepare journal entries for the above transactions and the appropriate corresponding adjusting journal entries necessary to prepare financial statements for the month of November.
