

Giger: Transcultural Nursing, 5th Edition

Giger & Davidhizar's Culturally Competent Test Bank: NCLEX-RN Review

Chapter 1: Introduction to Transcultural Nursing

MULTIPLE CHOICE

1. The use of transcultural nursing knowledge is founded on the goal of:

- A. Increasing client compliance to the Western medical model.
- B. Delivering culturally sensitive care that is free of inherent biases.
- C. Eliminating cultural differences.
- D. Establishing system-centered health policy.

ANS: B DIF: Cognitive Level: Knowledge

KEY: Nursing Process: Assessment

MSC: NCLEX Category: Safe, Effective Care Environment

2. The major purpose of culturally congruent nursing care is to enable the nurse to:

- A. Be aware of his or her own cultural beliefs and values.
- B. Change his or her beliefs to meet the patient's needs.
- C. Provide care in a culturally sensitive manner.
- D. Refrain from making judgments when patients are wrong.

ANS: C DIF: Cognitive Level: Knowledge

KEY: Nursing Process: Assessment

MSC: NCLEX Category: Health Promotion and Maintenance

3. Transcultural nursing is viewed as a culturally competent practice field that is:

- A. Nurse centered and research focused.
- B. Client centered and research focused.
- C. Spiritually centered and research focused.
- D. Concerned with differences between but not within cultural groups.

ANS: B DIF: Cognitive Level: Knowledge

KEY: Nursing Process: Assessment

MSC: NCLEX Category: Safe, Effective Care Environment

4. The principle that is most important to the provision of culturally competent care is the nurse's:

- A. Awareness of personal stereotypes based on culture.
- B. Knowledge of specific behavior that is typical of persons in a given culture.
- C. Sensitivity to what the physician says about persons in the cultural group of the patient.
- D. Awareness of actions that can be expected of persons in a given culture.

ANS: A DIF: Cognitive Level: Knowledge

KEY: Nursing Process: Assessment

MSC: NCLEX Category: Psychosocial Integrity

5. Which of these cultural phenomena are among those considered essential and are evidenced among all cultural groups? Mark all that apply.

- A. Communication
- B. Space
- C. Social organization
- D. Time
- E. Environmental control
- F. Biological variations

ANS: F DIF: Cognitive Level: Knowledge

KEY: Nursing Process: Assessment

MSC: NCLEX Category: Psychosocial Integrity

6. The nurse responding to patients from diverse cultures with interpersonal awareness, knowledge, skill, and sensitivity is known as having:

- A. Enculturation.
- B. Culture care preservation.
- C. Cultural competence.
- D. Culture care accommodation.

ANS: C DIF: Cognitive Level: Knowledge

KEY: Nursing Process: Implementation

MSC: NCLEX Category: Health Promotion and Maintenance

7. The nurse is preparing a healthy diet plan for Mrs. O. In doing so, she takes the time to include the Polish foods that Mrs. O. favors. This is an example of the nurse's demonstrating:

- A. Cultural competence.
- B. Bicultural values.
- C. Ethnocentrism.
- D. Assimilation.

ANS: A DIF: Cognitive Level: Application

KEY: Nursing Process: Planning

MSC: NCLEX Category: Health Promotion and Maintenance