- A. Transparency
 - B. Ownership
 - C. Prominence
 - D. Centrality
18. _____ is the measure of how important total compensation is in the overall HR strategy.
- A. Competitiveness
 - B. Prominence
 - C. Centrality
 - D. Ownership
19. The role non-HR managers play in making pay decisions is called _____.
- A. ownership
 - B. transparency
 - C. technology
 - D. decentralized decision-making

20. Issues of transparency, technology, and choice are most closely associated with the _____ aspect of mapping a total compensation strategy.
- A. objectives
 - B. management
 - C. employee contributions
 - D. internal alignment
21. Career growth, hierarchy, and flexible design are most closely associated with the _____ aspect of mapping a total compensation strategy.
- A. objectives
 - B. internal alignment
 - C. external competitiveness
 - D. employee contributions
22. Which of the following is NOT included in a strategy map?
- A. External competitiveness
 - B. Management
 - C. HR alignment
 - D. Employee contributions
23. Which of the following is NOT a test of whether a pay strategy is a source of competitive advantage?
- A. Alignment test
 - B. Cost-effectiveness test
 - C. Differentiation test
 - D. Value-addition test
24. Which of the following tests of competitive advantage is probably the easiest test to pass?
- A. Alignment test
 - B. Differentiation test
 - C. Integration test
 - D. Value-addition test

25. The alignment test
- A. is difficult to imitate.
 - B. is the most difficult test.
 - C. helps ensure passing the differentiation test.
 - D. becomes difficult if the differentiation test is not clear.
26. Trying to measure an ROI for any compensation strategy implies that
- A. it is possible to align and differentiate and still fail to add value.
 - B. people are "human capital," similar to other factors of production.
 - C. adding value is the most difficult test.
 - D. value created as a result of costs is difficult to specify.
27. Which of the following statements is NOT true?
- A. The effect of performance incentives depends on the context.
 - B. Embedding compensation strategy in HR strategy affects results.
 - C. Focusing only on one dimension of the pay strategy is a best practice.
 - D. The effect of paying more than competitors depends on the context.
28. Research investigating high-performance workplaces found that performance-based pay _____ when combined with other high-performance practices.
- A. improves attitudes and behaviors
 - B. increases the number of middle men required
 - C. reduces labor costs
 - D. has little effect on quality
29. When organization performance declines
- A. a virtuous circle may be created.
 - B. performance-based pay plans do not pay off.
 - C. managers must avoid changing the pay practices.
 - D. employee attrition rate declines considerably.

30. Research shows that _____ will effectively shift an organization in a downward performance spiral to an upward one.
- A. reinforcing performance-based pay

Short Answer Questions

51. Define defenders and prospectors as referred to by Miles and Snow.

According to Miles and Snow, defenders are those firms that operate in stable markets and compete on cost, while prospectors are firms that are more focused on innovation and new markets.

Difficulty: 1 Easy

52. Compensation systems can be tailored to general business strategies. List and explain these strategies.

Compensation systems can be tailored to three general business strategies:

- i. The innovator stresses new products and short response time to market trends. A supporting compensation approach places less emphasis on evaluating skills and jobs and more emphasis on incentives designed to encourage innovations.
- ii. The cost cutter's efficiency-focused strategy stresses doing more with less by minimizing costs, encouraging productivity increases, and specifying in greater detail exactly how jobs should be performed.
- iii. The customer-focused business strategy stresses delighting customers and bases employee pay on how well they do this.

Difficulty: 2 Medium

Topic: Support Business Strategy

53. Explain AMO theory.

Boxall and Purcell found an increasingly common "very basic theory of performance" being used, which they referred to as "AMO theory":

$$P = f(A, M, O)$$

P is performance, which is specified to be a function (f) of three factors: A is ability, M is motivation, and O is opportunity.

In other words, the AMO logic is that HR systems will be most effective when roles are designed to allow employees to be involved in decisions and have an opportunity to make an impact, when employee ability is developed through selective hiring and training and development, and when the compensation system motivates employees to act on their abilities and take advantage of the opportunity to make a difference.

54. What are the aspects of the alignment of pay strategy?

Alignment of the pay strategy includes three aspects:

- i. align with the business strategy,
- ii. align externally with the economic and sociopolitical conditions, and
- iii. align internally within the overall HR system.

Difficulty: 1 Easy
Topic: Source of Competitive Advantage: Three Tests

55. Write short notes on virtuous and vicious circles.

Virtuous circle - Thinking of pay as part of a circle suggests that performance-based pay works best when there is success to share. An organization whose profits or market share is increasing is able to pay larger bonuses and stock awards, which fairly improves employee attitudes and work behaviors, which in turn improves their performance. The circle gains upward momentum. Employees receive returns that compensate for the risks they take. And they behave like owners, since they are sharing in the organization's success.

Vicious circle - Circles can also gain momentum going downward to become a vicious circle. When organization performance declines, performance-based pay plans do not pay off; there are no bonuses, and the value of stock declines—with potentially negative effects on organization performance. Declining organization performance increases the risks facing employees—risks of still smaller bonuses, demotions, wage cuts, and even layoffs. Unless the increased risks are offset by larger returns, the risk-return imbalance will reinforce declining employee attitudes and speed the downward spiral.
